

The Most Reliable, Comprehensive Wireless Solution

Gives you ULTIMATE control of your grid

GridNavigator is a leading provider of intelligent Energy Management System (EMS) for commercial and industrial applications. Our solutions bring environmental and economical benefits to facilities management. We can help your company measure and control your energy usage and gain significant cost savings through detailed consumption measurement, energy strategy development, and demand management solutions. We take a holistic approach to enterprise power management through an integrated hardware/software solution that allows our clients to control lights and HVAC systems.

GridNavigator